serve their opinion until the measure was introduced. He ridiculed the report that Parliament would soon be dissolved, and asked the Tories, whose lukewarmness contributed to defeat the Government in several recent by-elections. The new Irish bill would secure the possession of land to their property. He denied that the Government had any intention of handing Swaziland over to the Boers. He also expressed the hope that the difficulty with the United States over the Behring Sea question would be settled soon, "but," said he, "with such a susceptible nation as America Great Britain cannot negotiate at the top of her voice." This remark was greeted with loud laughter. A desultory conversation followed. Several members expressed the hope that the Government would prevent the Boers acquiring Swaziland. A vote of thanks to Salisbury was adopted.

BERLIN, March 20th.
Julius Simon had a long talk with Emperor William. At the close of the interview the Emperor presented Simon with the decoration of the Order of the Red Eagle. In the course of the conversation the French statesman broached the subject of the neutralization of Alsace-Lorraine, and the Emperor replied that it was never too early to discuss a question that concerned the friendly relations of Germany and France.

WASHINGTON, March 21st.
In reply to an inquiry of the Senate the Secretary of the Treasury, after deprecating any action looking to the sending of a line-of-battle ship on a voyage around the world, said that it would probably cost $17,000 to $19,000 per month for the officers and crew; gun practice $5,000, and coal for 28,618 miles at $8 a ton, about $26,203. The cost of docking the ship will be $8,400 at Melbourne, $5,250 at Hongkong, and $2,095 at Messina, an average of $5,311, for a ship like the Chicago.

New York, March 21st.
A cable special to the Sun from London says: A dispatch from Rheims announces the death on Tuesday evening of Mme. Pomery. For years she was at the head of one of the greatest wine establishments in France, and in many respects she was a remarkable woman. She had accumulated a fortune which at her death exceeded 20,000,000 francs.

ST. JOHN, N. F., March 21st.
Tremendous excitement prevails here concerning the British modus vivendi with the French Government. Telegraphic communication with all important centers shows that the people are profoundly stirred at the invasion of the rights of this colony. It would be better to be under the French flag as French subjects than the British subjects under French rule, is the sentiment expressed on all sides. The terms of the arrangement, though denounced, are not objected to so fiercely as the fact that the arrangement was commenced and concluded without the consent of the Newfoundland Government and in direct defiance of the unanimous joint address from the Legislature to the Queen at the last session. "Give us annexation to the United States," is the cry, more frequently heard now than ever before.

LONDON, March 21st.
Many callers resumed work yesterday. More will be returning to-day. By Monday a large majority of the men will be at work. In the Commons this evening Labouchere moved the abolition of hereditary representatives in Parliament. The people would not long tolerate the idea of several hundreds of men born with the privilege of interfering with the Government and to legislate as a class. The House had the spectacle before it of men excluded from jockey clubs and warned of race courses, and yet able to interfere with the legislation of the nation. The motion was rejected by a vote of 201 to 137.

NAPLES, March 21st.
The Duke of Manchester died this evening at Naples after three weeks' illness. He is succeeded by Lord Mandeville.

NEW YORK, March 21st.
A letter has been received by Ivan Smirnov from a Russian exile now in London, the Countess Nargakouk, which gives some painful revelations about the life of the exiles in Siberia. The writer quotes from letters recently received from Siberia. These letters give statistics that the writer says "may be relied upon as nearly if not quite correct." The statistics are in substance that the exiles to Siberia in 1886 numbered 16,840 nihilists or their reported supporters. In 1887 there were added 14,277 more; in 1888 the number was 15,015 and in 1889 the exiles were 12,000.

Of the number exiled the deaths range from 180 to 220 per 1000, due to natural sickness, exposure and knout punishment. The suicides average about 20 to the 1000. During the month of August, 1889, in one of the central political prisons, 275 of the 493 prisoners were prostrated with fever.

The letter says: "Hospital accommodations bring insufficient many of the fever-racked patients were kept in cells with those not infected with disease. For lack of medical attendance many died. In another part of the prison what is called a riot occurred, which, in reality, was only a slight infringement of some cant-prison rule. The average of these flogged with instances of cruelty in various prisons are quoted, in which prisoners' feet were frozen in their cells, and then they were sent out to wash clothes when the thermometer was twenty-five degrees below zero. Commander Massinkoff is also charged with calling men before him in frocks and stinking them in the face while they were there helpless. Despite these facts, it is noted that the Russian papers continue to represent that the life of the exiles in Siberia is a pleasant one."

CURIOS.

We have before quoted extracts from that live little paper The Box of Curios, published at the Art Silk Parlor, Yokohama. We now repeat the offence, and scissor the following:

WANTED.—A Young Lady, sweet 36, blue eyes and red hair, rather good looking, wishes to correspond with some young man who means business, and is matrimonially inclined. Having been fooled several times before, triflers will find a breach of promise suit on their hands, if they are not sincere. Send Photo, and address; "Maud," this Office.

FOUND.—Several Yokohamaites who, having a personal spite against some individual, are willing to furnish The Box with personal and libelous articles, that they have not the nerve to father the authorship of over their own signatures, but willing for us to be kicked to death, because we are used to it. Their productions can be found in our store.

A most recherché affair took place at the "Banqueting Hall" of the noted Palace Art Silk Parlor, 61 Main Street, last week. It was a spontaneous offering of the affable Manager, to the many customers who had spent a large part of their fortunes at his store. A feast of bowl and a flow of reason, was noticeable on all sides. The representatives of the local Press were out in force to the free entertainment, and all were too full for utterance, and as no note of the occasion has been made in their journals, suppose they are still full. Give a daily reporter a remainder suppressed.

EDITOR BOX.—I notice several carls being driven rapidly through the streets by gentlemen, each accompanied by a native. Can you explain the cause of their great hurry, as well as why their servants drive just as fast when alone?

—STRANGER.

Answer.—Yokohama is not noted for any great activity, and for the purpose of creating a great impression of the town, the Chamber of Commerce have requested these gentlemen to race up and down the streets. Then again the distances in Yokohama are great, and often the Banks are one and two blocks away from their office, and it requires some fast driving to be able to make the round trip during business hours. Competition is great, and the more times a day these gentlemen can rush up to the H. & S. Bank, it fools the merchants, (there taking in their signs at night), into the belief they have a corner on Exchange, and are patronized accordingly. If "Stranger" notices any of their coolies endeavoring the lives of women and children by the same reckless driving, he is at liberty to stop them—take them out of the cart, and break their necks!

EDITOR BOX.—Is la grippe contagious, how does it act, who has it, and what is good for it?

—ENQUIRER.

[It is just as you say. The la grippe was brought over here on the last trip of the Oceanic, by Dr. Reynolds. It was found lying around in the F. and as it was clear, he brought a small dose to help put his medical conferees here. It has been a perfect harvest for them. Anything short of the small-pox is called la grippe, and as no one knows anything differently, the Drs. have had soft-jobs. The best job connected with the whole thing is, that the Doctors have had it themselves and been compelled to take their own medicine, consequently have been as sick as their patients, but not too sick to keep tally of their visits. The Druggists have been taking their own vile concoctions, and have laid up in fine shape. The Wine and Liquor Merchants have spoken highly of their brands of Scotch Whiskies, and from the way a fellow gripped and patted after trying Cornow's gin, we think it works all right. Drinking milk as a beverage, we can't speak from experience. The newspaper and curio men all escaped, but the Mule poet from Tokio still has it bad.—Editor.]

THE ARIZONA "KICKER."

We extract the following from the last issue of the Arizona Kicker:
"A Straw.—We have just closed a bargain with Henry Shaw, the well-known contractor and builder, for a one-story addition to the rear end of our office, to be 11 x 14 in size. This room will be used as a gunsmith-shop under our own personal management. This will give us, under one and the same roof, a gunsmith, a store, a hardware-store, a butcher-shop, a feed and shoe store, a signal station, and a gunshop. Three years ago, upon our arrival in this town, we slept under a wagon for the first three nights, and the first money we had was a borrowed dollar."

"Is it any wonder that of our moon-eyed lantern-jawed, mule eared contemporary down the street gnaws a file all day and has the colic all night?"

"Always Ahead.—Next Monday morning an artist and engraver from Chicago will arrive in town to accept a position tendered by The Kicker. We are the first to introduce a real artist into Arizona, as we are the first to lead the way in all other good things. Hereafter all matters of local importance, but more especially street rows attended with loss of life, will be illustrated in the highest style of art, thereby increasing the value of The Kicker to subscribers by at least 100 per cent, while the price of subscription will remain at the old figures."

"The Galled Jade.—It has so happened, every time we have been obliged to kill a man in this town in self-defense, that the Coroner and everybody else was in a great hurry, and the body was buried in the most convenient place. Last week we were struck with the idea of getting them all together in one common pot, and we bought an acre of sand-plot, Colonel Hawkins for a ground-work. Our green-eyed contemporary got a hint of what was up, and he went blowing around town and did his best to head us off; he failed, however, and during the thaw we had the five bodies taken up, removed to what is already known as 'The Kicker Corral,' and each grave designated with a white head-board with the name painted neatly thereon. In the spring we shall see that each grave is covered with trailing arbutus—that is, if arbutus will trail in this country. The names as they appear on the head-boards are: 'Mose, Peter, Jim, Sam and Jack.' We shall probably add a couple more to the list before the idea of May, whatever that is."

"They Don't Enthus.—Ever now and then some one who is dissatisfied with the course of The Kicker bobs up with a proposition to run us out of the country by establishing a new weekly in opposition. He goes blowing around, gets out a prospectus on a broken-backed type-writer, puts his own name down for $5, and that's the last of it. We've seen twenty such cases in the last three years, and they no longer make our hair stand on end and chill our canter up and down our spinal column."

"Two weeks ago we felt it our duty to caution the Mayor of this town that he was riding a high horse and that he must come down to a mule or we'd take measures to make him. He carried an old shotgun around for two or three days, telling everybody he had camped on our trail, but it finally got too heavy for him and he sold it for $3 and got out the usual prospectus. We hear that he has not succeeded in raising $4, and is dog toward establishing a great newspaper here. By way of encouragement we'll add a second dog, and we hope the Mayor will push his project for all its worth."

"Notice.—Parties addressing letters to the Kicker will please add, 'United States of America, Western Hemisphere,' to the usual directions. Wamamaker's postmaster in this town is never certain what country Arizona is located in, and this will greatly facilitate his labor of distribution. The only qualification he has got for the office is his ignorance of orthography and geography, and his theory as to why Ickass rabbits were created bottled."

"Not Guilty.—As predicted in our last issue Colonel McClurg was not held for the shooting of Dan Tompkins. As we were an eye-witness to the whole affair we felt it our duty to go before the Coroner's jury with our testimony. Our blink-eyed contemporary down the street says we did this hoping to increase the circulation of the Kicker, and he is partly correct. We never let slip an opportunity to increase our subscription list, and are happy to announce that three members of the Coroner's jury subscribed and paid for a year in advance, while the under-keeper who furnished the box has given us a six-inch add to run c. o. d. t. f."

"The Colonel was taking a drink at the bar of the Gray Wolf Saloon when Tompkins hit him on the chin with an o-n-o. It was a brutal and uncalculated thing, and Tompkins pulled his gun to back it up. The Colonel jumped behind a barrel, pulled his gun and both fired together. While he only lost a lock of hair, Tompkins got it plumb-center and fell dead. This should be a solemn warning to all his class not to monkey with a gentleman when putting away an afternoon's sustenance."
